A. NCAA Hall of Champions Revel in the excitement of college athletics at this interactive museum! Practice your slam dunk, see how high you can jump spiking a volleyball, and learn about collegiate sports with the museum's interactive kiosks!

B. Indiana State Museum From mastodons to Hoosier celebrities, Indiana State Museum offers a view of the prehistoric to the present day. Enjoy the Turner and Wantanabe Gardens.

C. Eiteljorg Museum of American Indians and Western Art Named after a prominent local businessman and philanthropist, this preeminent Western Art museum features a who's who in Native American and Western Art. Visitors can enjoy works by sculptor Fredrick Remington, and paintings by Georgia O'Keefe.

D. Canal Walk Serves as an innovative connection between the serenity of the park and the hectic bustle of downtown. A variety of interesting architecture like fountains, waterfalls, bridges, and murals greet visitors along the waterside promenade.

E. Indiana State Library Built with locally occurring Indiana Limestone, the largest library in Indiana is home to over 60,000 books and manuscripts. Inside the library, murals, ornate fixtures, stained glass, and carvings delight and inspire all who enter.

F. USS Indianapolis Memorial The USS Indianapolis was sunk by a Japanese submarine at the end of World War II. A quarter of the crew died in the attack, while the remaining 900 crew members endured shark attacks, dehydration, and hypothermic conditions. Ultimately, only 317 men survived. This memorial was erected by those who survived.

G. Indiana History Center Founded in 1830, the Indiana History Center is known as "Indiana's Storyteller." The center's stately interior features a wide range of interactive historical exhibits.

H. Military Park The oldest park in Indiana, Military Park was founded in 1820. Today it's the site of concerts, festivals, and more, but during the Civil War, the park was used to station Union troops.

I. Veterans Memorial Plaza Completed in 1930, the plaza's 100 foot black granite obelisk and fountain features several bronze bas reliefs signifying law, science, religion and education. Found next to the plaza, visit the Indiana War memorial, honoring those who fought in World War I.

J. American Legion Mall Lined with memorials and grand buildings, this large open space serves as solemn tribute to those who served and lost their lives in armed conflicts. The American Legion helps honorably discharged veterans, and is headquartered here.

K. Central Library While the buildings striking Greek Doric architectural facade attracts many admirers, the library's vast catalog of 16 million items are borrowed and returned annually. The collection includes rare items from Kurt Vonnegut, May Wright Sewall, and James Whitcomb Riley.

L. Lucas Oil Stadium Home to the Indianapolis Colts, this multipurpose stadium features a retractable roof and hosts numerous sporting and musical events. Notable for hosting the 2012 Super Bowl.

M. Monument Circle Found in the heart of Indianapolis, the center of this traffic circle showcases the Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument, honoring native Hoosiers who fought in the armed services during the American Revolution, War of 1812, Mexican-American War, and Civil War.

N. Circle Center Mall Over 100 retailers purvey their wares in this sprawling 7 acre shopping center.

O. Indianapolis Arts Garden Spanning 110 feet in diameter, the glass dome serves as a pedestrian walkway to the Circle Center Mall. It also serves as an event and cultural center for Indianapolis artists.
